Buildings within a wide radius of the plant.
Kingsland, Rutherford and other places near by were filled with refugees tonight who had fled from their homes in the vicinity of the plant. A dozen persons were arrested at Kingsland on charges of petty larceny, and others were taken to the Sheriff of Bergen county to the guards sent out by him in all directions to shoot looters. The fire, which began at 3:50 p.m., still was smoldering late tonight in the ruins. Shells exploded almost continuously until 7:30 o'clock, but after that hour the detonations were only intermittent.
HALF FROZEN.
Half frozen workmen from the plant reached Jersey City after a perilous trip over the Hackensack meadows, which was their only escape. They said they feared some of their fellow-workmen had lost their lives, but had no definite information.
Flames from a small explosion in one part of the plant spread with amazing rapidity, they said.
PANIC IN PRISON.
James J. Kelly, warden of the Snake Hill penitentiary, about a mile from the scene of the explosion, said at 6:45 o'clock tonight that the detonations were as violent as they had been an hour before. The prison building, which con-

PEACE PROGRAMME OUTLINED BY SENATE'S PRESIDENT.

Paul Deschanel Aspires Restitution is Only Thing that Can Rejoice Republic for War's Sacrifices and as Assurance of Peace Worthy of the Nation.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PARIS, Jan. 11, 1:30 p.m.—Paul Deschanel, in addressing the Chamber of Deputies today after his re-election as president of that body, said:

"The first articles of our programme remain the deliverance of Belgium and the restitution of Alsace and Lorraine. This is the only programme that can reconquer us for our sacrifices and assure to our children a durable peace. It is the duty of the government to pursue this programme with the same energy and determination as we have shown in the past."

WARDEN'S DESCRIPTION.
Warden Kelly gave a vivid description of the explosion, of which he had an excellent view from the penitentiary. He said the burning area resembled a gigantic display of fireworks. "I don't want to see any more fireworks," he said over the telephone. "Can't you hear the explosion now? Listen, there they go. The walls are shaking badly and broken glass is falling from every window."

The warden said the alarm was given to persons in the Snake Hill neighborhood by 600 workmen, employees of the plant, who were running for their lives and shouting to everybody to leave the vicinity.

REPLY OF THE ENTENTE TO PRESIDENT'S NOTE.

League of Peace Favored—Statement of Terms to End the Great War.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The translation of the French text of the Entente note, as cabled by Ambassador Sharp at Paris, follows:

The Allied governments have received the note which was delivered to them in the name of the government of the United States on the 10th of December, 1916. They have studied it with the care imposed upon them by both the exact realization which they have of the gravity of the hour and by the sincere friendship which attaches them to the American people.

In general they wish to declare that they pay tribute to the elevation of the sentiment with which the American note is inspired and that they associate themselves with all their hopes with the project for the creation of a league of nations for the maintenance of peace and justice throughout the world.

They recognize all the advantages for the cause of humanity and civilization which come from the institution of international arbitration and the reduction of armaments.

The Allies are fully aware of the losses and suffering which the war causes to nations, to individuals, to families, to the human race, but they do not hold themselves responsible for them, having in no way either provoked or provoked this war, and they strive to reduce these damages in the measure compatible with the defense against the violence and will of the enemy.

It is with satisfaction, therefore, that they take note of the declaration the American communication is in no way associated in its origin with that of the Central Powers transmitted on the 14th of December by the government of the United States. They did not doubt, moreover, the resolution of the government to avoid even the appearance of a support, even moral, of the Central Powers for the war.

The Allied governments believe that they must restore to the most friendly but in the most specific manner against the assimilation established in two groups of belligerents; this assimilation, based upon declarations by the Central Powers, is in direct opposition to the evidence, both as regards responsibility for the past and as concerns guarantee for the future. President Wilson in this sense has never had designs of liberating and Europe from the brutal covetousness of Prussian militarism. It is never has had designs of liberating and Europe from the brutal covetousness of Prussian militarism.

"OUR PEACE PROPOSAL SINCERE," SAYS BERLIN

Kaiser's Plea for a Conference no War Maneuver, Neutrals Hear.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]
BERLIN, Jan. 11 (via Bayville).—Germany today handed neutral governments a note concerning the reply of the Entente to the German peace proposals, the Overseas News Agency announces.

It is first stated, says the news agency announcement, that the German government has received the reply of the Entente to the note of December 12, containing a proposition to enter at once into peace negotiations. The note continues:

"Our adversaries declined this proposition, giving as their reason that it is a proposition without sincerity and without importance. The form in which they close their communication excludes an answer to them, but the imperial government considers it important to point out to the governments of neutral powers its opinion regarding the situation."

ORIGIN OF THE WAR.
"The Central Powers have no reason to enter into any discussion regarding the origin of the war. History will judge upon whom this immense burden of responsibility rests. The endeavor of Russia to raise Constantinople as over the instigation of the Serbian assassination in Sarajevo and the complete mobilization of Russia, which meant war against Germany."

SELF-DEFENSE.
"Germany and her allies, who had to take up arms for defense of their liberty and their honor, consider this their aim of the war, as obtained."

On the other hand, the hostile powers always went further away from the realization of the plan which, according to the declaration of their responsible statesmen, were among others, directed toward the conquest of Alsace-Lorraine and several Russian provinces, the humiliation and diminution of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, the partition of Turkey, and the mutilation of Bulgaria.

"In the face of such war aims, the demand for restitution, reparation and guarantees in the mouth of our adversaries produces a surprising effect."

Our adversaries call the proposal of four allied belligerent powers a war maneuver. Germany and her allies must protest in the most energetic fashion against such a characterization of their motives which were frankly explained. They were persuaded that a peace which was just and acceptable to all the belligerents was possible, that it could be brought about by an immediate, spoken exchange of views and that, therefore, the responsibility for further bloodshed could not be taken."

Their readiness was affirmed without reservation make known their peace conditions when negotiations were entered into, which refutes every doubt as to their sincerity."

"Our adversaries who had it in their hands to examine the proposition as to its contents, neither attempted an examination or made counter-proposals. Instead, they refused to take the proposals as long as the re-establishment of violated rights and liberties, the recognition of the principle of nationalities, and the free existence of small states were not guaranteed."

The sincerity which our adversaries profess to the proposals of the four allied powers will not be conceded by the world to these demands, which would hold before its eyes the fate of the Irish people, the destruction of the liberty and independence of the Boer republic, the subjugation of Northern Africa by England, France and Italy, the suppression of Russian alien nations, and also the violation of Greece, which is without precedent in history."

"Against the pretended violations of the laws of nations by the Central Powers, these powers are not entitled to demand, while from the beginning of the war trampled on justice and to place the treaties upon which it is built. England alone repudiated the London declaration, the content of which had been solemnly affirmed by the Central Powers as a valid law of nations and in the further course of the war violated in the most flagrant manner the Paris declaration; so that by her arbitrary measures of warfare, a condition of lawlessness has been created."

DOOR IS STILL OPEN FOR WILSON TO ACT.
Interpretation of Reply is that Early Peace is Out of the Question.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Entente reply to President Wilson's peace note is regarded in all quarters here as putting an early peace practically out of the question, but still leaving an open door for the President to make further efforts.

The official view on first consideration is that it constitutes a complete answer to the President's note. German diplomats regard the reply as even more severe than they expected. They declared it evidence that the enemies of Germany are waging a war of conquest to crush and dismember her. The German allies, they declared, never would agree to any such terms.

THE NEXT MOVE.
President Wilson's next move now becomes the center of attention. It will not be decided upon until a careful and detailed study of the replies of both Central Powers and the Entente has been made.

Several courses are open to the President. He may inform each of the belligerents of his decision, or he may forward the documents without comment, or with some expression to advance the situation to the point of another exchange. He may begin a series of confidential negotiations, either through the Ambassadors at the foreign capitals. Also he may have his next step, not upon the notes alone, but upon an estimate of the situation in the belligerent countries.

Nothing has been decided and nothing will be decided without the most deliberate and mature consideration.

SECRECY.
It will not be unexpected if the curtain of secrecy is drawn upon the next move, because the situation has advanced to a stage where progress may demand absolute secrecy more than ever before.

The Entente statement of terms is regarded as presenting a legitimate basis for the President to take another step if he chooses to do so. By forwarding the replies of each set of belligerents to the other,

Officials also were pleased with the friendly tone of the note and the consideration shown to American purposes, despite the indirect criticism of the President for what

PETROGRAD, Jan. 11.—(British Admiralty press release.) A further retreat of the Russian and Rumanian forces in Rumania is announced in today's official communication, which follows:

"As a result of repeated attacks under the cover of heavy artillery fire, the enemy took possession of the village of Ruzhitsa on the River Olutza. By stubborn attacks the enemy slightly pressed back the Rumanian forces. On the right bank of the Olutza, the Russian forces were driven back across the river with great losses."

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—(via Vienna.)—The recent Russian offensive on the northern end of the Russo-Galician front has broken down. In one place, the military critic of the Overseas News Agency writes:

"Strong Russian attacks were begun on January 4 between the Gulf of Riga and the Riga-Mitau road. The Russian forces were not unopposed. They have broken down everywhere except at one point. The bodies of the dead, lying in the open, are the effects of the useless Russian sacrifice. The Russian army, after attacking several days, obtained a local success forcing a salient in the German front. The new German front is absolutely secured against further attacks."

"The Russian attack made on a front of about 100 kilometers (sixty-two miles) apparently was not undertaken in the hope of pushing back the German front along the Baltic, as the number of troops engaged was insufficient, and the German front has been strongly fortified for more than a year."

The advance of Teutonic forces which are invading Rumania is proceeding unchecked, according to today's report. Several points of support along the frontier of Northern Rumania were captured. The Russian forces were captured and more than 600 prisoners taken. The statement reads: "German and Austrian troops yesterday obtained a further success in the difficult mountain fighting between Iasi and the Sushitza valley. Several points of support were captured. Near Maresti and Racovita the captured line was maintained against hostile attacks. Six officers and more than 600 men were captured and the booty comprised six machine guns."

BRITISH ATTACK.

British troops made attacks today on the German lines near Serre and Beaumont on the Somme front. They were repulsed says this evening's report.

British troops yesterday succeeded in penetrating the German defenses at one point west of Ypres, but were expelled by a counter attack, suffering heavy losses, says the War Office statement today.

It's Lead as an Advertising Medium in the Year 1916

Concurrent with other important events in Southern California, the closing of the old year marks a big lead in the volume of paid advertising printed in The Times over all its rivals.

Again, careful investors and buyers of newspaper publicity in this section of the country during the past year have demonstrated their faith in The Times by inserting more separate advertisements and more liberal space in its advertising columns than in those of any other newspaper.

The merchant who uses pages to exploit his goods and the individual who offers to sell, or wants to purchase anything, are agreed as to the certain results accruing from advertising in The Times. It is as indispensable to one as to the other, proving it to be the most efficient advertising medium in California.

The following tabulated statement indicates concisely the pre-eminence of The Times in Los Angeles:

Ninety Miles has as Many of the Enemy Along its Front as Have the Two Hundred Thirty Miles Extending from Swiss Border to Rheims, Says Gen. Maurice.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Jan. 11, 3:55 p.m.—In discussing with the Associated Press today the new line which the British have taken over in France, Maj. Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the War Office, replied to the frequently-uttered criticism based upon the fact that England, with her new army, holds only comparatively small portions on the western front.

He stated that the ninety miles held by the British has as many Germans along its front as the 230 miles extending from the Swiss border to Rheims.

"Besides the number facing us," Gen. Maurice continued, "it must be remembered that both tactical and ground conditions along our front are much more than in any other section in the front. Just now we feel this acutely, as the water is always near the surface in Flanders, and, besides the churned-up ground in the Somme front, we must contend with adverse weather. We continue, however, to make successful trench raids, and these operations are becoming increasingly easier."

"Information from captured German prisoners shows that, while the rationed served to their army are sufficient, they are by no means as good as those of the British. The German army, after attacking several days, obtained a local success forcing a salient in the German front. The new German front is absolutely secured against further attacks."

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—China's reply to President Wilson's peace note, which was received by the State Department today, expresses "her sympathy for the spirit of the President's note."

"To join her efforts with the United States for the attainment of permanent peace."

The Department also received by cable from American Minister Reineck, at Peking, a note from the Chinese minister for Foreign Affairs, as follows:

"The present war by its prolongation has seriously affected the interest of China, more so perhaps than those of other powers which have remained neutral. She is now at a time of reorganization which demands economically and industrially the cooperation of foreign countries. Co-operation which a large number of them are unable to accord on account of the war in which they are engaged."

"In manifesting her sympathy for the spirit of the President's note, having in view the ending of the war as possible of the hostilities, China is but acting in conformity with the profound sentiments."

"On account of the extent which modern wars are apt to assume and the repercussion which they bring about, their effects are no longer confined to the countries directly engaged. Countries are interested in seeing peace becoming as rare as possible."

"China is ready to join her efforts with the United States for the attainment of permanent peace, which can only be obtained through the help of all."

Gump Tells How He Escaped from His Apartments.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Jan. 11.—The story of the treatment to which Frederick Gump says he was subjected by Harry K. Thaw was made public for the first time today by Dr. W. F. Kuhn, one of the physicians who examined the boy when he returned to Kansas City after escaping from Thaw. A mass of long, deep welts on his back and body bear out his statement of the brutal flogging he received.

Thaw, armed with two whips, one of which was knotted, lashed him for more than an hour, the boy said, while he fought with him. Finally, weak and exhausted, the boy said, he fell to the floor and pleaded for mercy. Not until then did Thaw relent. He made the boy, according to Gump's story, kneel on the floor and kiss his foot, hand, cheek and lips, forcing him to repeat after him: "I am your slave for four years."

At breakfast the next morning, Thaw, with the menacing whips always at hand, while he fed him with his hands. After each mouthful the boy was made to say: "Thank you, master."

STORY OF LASHING.

"Thaw asked me if I wanted to take a bath before retiring, and I told him I did," declared the boy, "and he said: 'You must obey my orders.' At breakfast the next morning, Thaw, with the menacing whips always at hand, while he fed him with his hands. After each mouthful the boy was made to say: 'Thank you, master.'"

Thaw's attempt at self-destruction was a sensational climax to a hunt for the boy, which began in New York City. Thaw, a 19-year-old high school boy of Kansas City, in a New York hotel last Christmas, attempted suicide in a house at No. 5260 Walnut street, West Philadelphia, today, while the police of virtually every city in the East were searching for him as a fugitive.

WAS TRAINING GUMP. MRS. THAW EXPLAINS.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, today issued a statement bearing upon his indictment in New York for assault upon Frederick Gump, Jr., a schoolboy. In the statement Mrs. Thaw refers to the fact that while her husband, the late William Thaw, frequently assisted poor boys to secure an education, that Harry did likewise, her own opinion, "fortified by long experience and observation," is that "this form of benevolence is too susceptible of abuse to be indulged."

"It is not surprising that Harry should offer a scientific training to a boy who had been committed to his family to move to Southern California," Mrs. Thaw says in the statement, but adds that "Tuesday, January 9, 1917, the combination of needlessly-assumed guardianship and the obvious result of Christmas conviviality resulted disastrously."

KILLS HIMSELF IN GRAVEYARD.

Unhappy Man Gains Courage to Cut His Throat.

Welcomed Death but Fears Horrors of Burial.

Then Kneled on Mound Which Covered Suicide.

Familiarizing himself with burial duties, yesterday afternoon a man of 35, who had been in the army, ended his life in a graveyard.
After watching the funeral of a woman, he knelt on the mound which covered her, and then ended his life with a knife.

He was found by a passerby and taken to the hospital. He

BLACK OUTLOOK FOR THE GUARD

Little Cash from State and None from Government.

Refuse to Take Federal Oath to Cut off Funds.

Sanctions Budget Makes no Increase, However.

The budget for State expenses submitted to the Legislature last night, shows a total of $458,100 for the National Guard.
This is the same amount as was apportioned last year, owing to the refusal of the guardsmen to take the federal oath.

The refusal of the guardsmen to take the federal oath, which would have cut off the federal aid, has resulted in the same

LOSERS HOT ON DEALER'S TRAIL

MacKusick Believed to Have Fled to Orient.

Many New Complaints Made Against Spender.

His ex-Lawyer's Office is Entered, Ransacked.

Nearly half a hundred men be-lieged the Sheriff's office yesterday, a score waited in the District Attorney's office and many others restlessly paced the corridors at police headquarters, all seeking to retain title to automobiles entrusted for sale to A. M. MacKusick. Meantime the missing spender, according to the best information obtainable, was on the Pacific bound for the Orient.

Prior to leaving the country, the Spring-street "Millionaire Kid," as he was called in derision by those who profited by his recklessness, the young man wrote a letter to a friend here in which he divulged incriminating facts. He said that if Deputy District Attorney Tracey Becker, whom he referred to as "Old Man Becker" took action, he would "make a sneak" and spoke of several of the deals for which he was wanted, admitting them.

Every effort of the police to locate the wife of MacKusick, or his former close friends, proved unavailing. "They have gone to the country," was the unvarying reply.
Six new complaints of swindling were laid before Deputy District Attorney Becker yesterday, as many more before other deputies, and twice as many before the police.
Riverside county residents also asked for complaints, alleging that they had been swindled out of their machines, or the title to the machines, and as the middle name of out their dealings with the missing dealer.

James J. Keegan, formerly of Boston and a friend of the family, secured the first warrant for the arrest of MacKusick from the Sheriff.
He said he had sold a number of machines through MacKusick, and in every instance found something wrong.

That MacKusick was clever is shown by the fact that he managed to have two attorneys in the city take up $500 in fictitious checks and hold them for him. They still hold the worthless paper.

GAY LOTTERIES.
MacKusick's love affairs were numerous. Yesterday three young women, other than his wife, who he married after a two-day courtship, appeared at the District Attorney's office and complained of money losses through him. The three girls are working in an effort to make a living their names were suppressed.

Late last evening Attorney Clyde E. Cate made a hurried trip to San Diego for the purpose of it was stated, to secure a warrant for the arrest of MacKusick. An advertisement of salvaging property placed in jeopardy by MacKusick. Mr. Cate will try to recover the automobile lost by MacKusick and also the eluded to have been pledged.

MacKusick is alleged to have placed his room-mate, Johnnie Reas, of the Wisconsin apartments, in a bad light by getting him to sign a fake bill of sale on a Dodge car owned by G. H. Campbell, and then borrowing money on the bill of sale.
The car was later sold by Campbell and is now in litigation.

OFFICES BURGLARIZED.
Last evening, according to Attorney Cate, his offices in a downtown office building were burglarized by private detectives and the contents of his files strewn over the floor.
Photographs were evidently taken of many papers, but nothing of intrinsic value was taken.

According to the District Attorney's office, MacKusick was frequently the victim of other evildoers, and on numerous occasions he had applied for and received warrants for men who have fraudulently secured cars from him and fled to other States. According to Deputy District Attorney Becker, more than one sharper "stung" the youthful spender for the price of a good car.

On one occasion MacKusick had a car owned by J. A. Schwartz of the city, which he had been borrowed up, evidently for the purpose of a sale. Schwartz changed his mind and claimed the car. Mac-

Hunted Man and Some Damaging Evidence Against Him.

A. M. MacKusick and one of his incriminating letters.
Written to friend here whose name is withheld. In it he admits some of the transactions for which he is sought by the police and says that he will "make a sneak" if "Old Man Becker" (Deputy District Attorney Tracy Becker) takes action.

Knock-out Drops.
ALEXANDER FINLAY, better known to the Los Angeles sporting world as "Doc"
"Scotty," trainer of the Los Angeles baseball team, was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night apparently dying from the effects of chloral (knock-out drops). At a late hour last night he had lapsed into a comatose condition, from which he was roused with difficulty. Doctors say he has a good chance to recover.
Between lapses of unconsciousness, the well-known trainer last night endeavored to explain to developing details of the proposed year's dinner and the annual meeting. The dinner will be held at Christopher's, No. 741 South Broadway, and immediately after the banquet the members will adjourn to the Masonic Temple, Pico and Flis-teria streets.

Rev. William MacCormack will give an address. An initiation of new members will follow the speech. The newly-elected or installed masters of lodges are asked to join the association at the January meeting.
This organization now comprises more than 600 men who have sworn as masters of Masonic lodges throughout this part of the State.

Perhaps Fatally.
REV. OCTAVIUS PARKER, 83 years old, is in the Good Samaritan Hospital, suffering from injuries which the attending surgeons report may prove fatal.
Police detectives are investigating the circumstances.

Mr. Parker lives at No. 732 East Fiftieth street. Recently he has been making his home a greater part of the time with relatives in Berkeley. He was taken to the hospital early yesterday morning by two unknown men, who failed to give their names to the hospital attendants.
They explained they had found the unconscious man lying in the street

at Ninth and Union avenues.
An examination established Mr.
Parker was suffering from a basal
fracture of the skull, an injury to the temple as if inflicted with a blunt instrument, and a broken
arm. He has not regained consciousness, and his advanced age makes his recovery doubtful.

His son, Robert O. Parker, No.
141 North Grand avenue, was notified of the father's condition yesterday. He could not understand how his father happened to be in the neighborhood of Ninth and Union
avenue, and appealed to the police
for a thorough investigation.

at Ninth and Union avenues.
An examination established Mr.
Parker was suffering from a basal
fracture of the skull, an injury to
the temple as if inflicted with a
blunt instrument, and a broken
arm. He has not regained consciousness, and his advanced age makes
his recovery doubtful.

His son, Robert O. Parker, No.
141 North Grand avenue, was notified of the father's condition yesterday. He could not understand how
his father happened to be in the neighborhood of Ninth and Union
avenue, and appealed to the police
for a thorough investigation.

Familiarizing himself with death, Andrew Jackson Duggett, 35, yesterday morning drove away his car and ended his life in a roadside cemetery. After watching the funeral of a woman who had ended her life with poison, he cut his throat. His body, found by a passerby, was taken to the morgue and an undertaker was called to the scene.

Mr. Duggett was a clerk in a downtown store, 35 years old, and was suffering from a nervous breakdown. He was married and had a family at No. 1111 Hill street and was a member of the Masonic and Modern Woodmen of America lodges. Recently he had been in a condition which would not permit work, and his wife, Mrs. Duggett, had been watching him with growing concern. He was found on a mound of earth in a cemetery, and his body was taken to the morgue.

After the funeral, Mrs. Duggett was left alone in the house. She was found by a neighbor, and she was taken to the hospital. ### The "Millionaire Kid."

LOSERS HOT ON DEALER'S TRAIL

MacKusick Believed to Have Fled to Orient.

Many New Complaints Made Against Spender.

His ex-Lawyer's Office is Entered, Ransacked.

Nearly half a hundred men besieged the Sheriff's office yesterday, a score waited in the District Attorney's office, and many others restlessly paced the corridors at police headquarters, all seeking to retain title to automobiles entrusted for sale to A. M. MacKusick. Meantime the missing spender, according to the best information obtainable, was on the Pacific bound for the Orient.

Prior to leaving the country the Springfield "Millionaire Kid," as he was called in derision by those who profited by his recklessness, the young man wrote a letter to a friend here in which he divulged incriminating facts. He said that if he would "make a sneak" and spoke of several of the deals for which he was wanted, admitting them.

Every effort of the police to locate the wife of MacKusick, or his former close friends, proved unavailing. They have gone to the "country," was the unvarying reply. Six new complaints of swindling were laid before Deputy District Attorney Becker yesterday, as many more before other deputies, and twice as many before the police.

MacKusick's love affairs were numerous, other than his wife, whom he married after a two-day courtship, resulted in two deaths. At the attorney's office and complained of money losses through him. As the three girls are working in an effort to make a living their names were suppressed.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED TO CITY MARKET'S HEAD.
A COMPLAINT signed by City Auditor Myers charging Frank O'Brien, former superintendent of city markets, with embezzlement was issued yesterday afternoon by Justice Hinshaw.

O'Brien was suspended soon after the alleged shortage was discovered and he has not been working since December 31. He has two months' salary coming, but it is being held by the city and will be applied to the shortage if he is found guilty. O'Brien last night stated that he had not determined whether he will make a fight or a plea for leniency. He stated that he had devoted much of his time to the outside work of the markets and therefore probably had been lax in keeping his accounts, and that, while he had been drinking heavily, he had not used any of the city's money for liquors. ## Hunted Man and Some Damaging Evidence Against Him.

POWER DEAL'S IN THE SCALE.
City may be Forced to Take New Scape Offer.

Prepared to Guarantee Sale at Low Figures.

Rates Sixty-eight Per Cent. of Other Contracts.

The city is to have the opportunity of buying electric power at a rate of 35 of a cent per kilowatt hour. It proposes to enter into a ten-year contract to purchase power at a rate of 1.10 cents per kilowatt hour. The other offer means a saving of 32 per cent. The attitude of the city officials who seem determined to force through the "power programme" will be watched with interest by the taxpayers, who have to bear the burden of municipal costs. John W. Kemp says that the city must accept the new offer if it is bona fide and guaranteed.

Today there will be placed in Mayor Woodman's hands the formal offer of the Seape Light and Power Company, through its president, Frank Buren, whereby the city may purchase such power as its municipal power plant cannot generate at a price that makes the proposed contract figure look ridiculous. The letter of the Seape company, which bears yesterday's date, says: Referring to our communication of some weeks since in which we called attention to the fact that there is an independent source of electric power which could be had by the city of Los Angeles, on very favorable terms, in the event the city should be in need of a supplementary or auxiliary supply, pending the completion of the municipal plant.

According to our engineer's estimates, we have a project capable of developing 132,500,000 kilowatt hours per annum, and we would be willing to enter into a contract to sell this entire production for a flat rate of 75 of a cent per kilowatt hour. This offer, however, is subject to a prompt acceptance or prior sale. We expect to have the power for sale, and it is entirely immaterial to us to whom it is sold. The first responsible offer for it at that price will be accepted.

In the event the city should be interested to the extent of desiring to discuss details of the proposed contract, an option for a reasonable length of time could probably be had. Our company stands ready to furnish any reasonable guarantee as to its ability to carry through any contract it may make.

"SCOTTY" FINLAY NEAR DEATH FROM CHLORAL.
ALEXANDER FINLAY, better known to the Los Angeles sporting world as "Doc" and "Scotty," trainer of the Los Angeles baseball team, was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night apparently dying from the effects of chloral (knock-out drops). At a late hour last night he had lapsed into a comatose condition, from which he was roused with difficulty. Doctors say he has a good chance to recover.

Between lapses of unconsciousness, the well-known trainer last night endeavored to explain to detectives just how he came to be in such a condition. A friend, Ray Lincoln, had found him on the verge of collapse, in a Spring-street barber shop, and immediately after the banquet the members will adjourn to the Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets.

MINISTER OF GOSPEL'S MYSTERIOUSLY INJURED.
REV. OCTAVIUS PARKER, 85 years old, is in the Good Samaritan Hospital, suffering from injuries which the attending surgeons report may prove fatal. Police detectives are investigating the circumstances.

Mr. Parker lives at No. 722 East Fifty-fifth street. Recently he has been making his home a greater part of the time with relatives in Berkeley. He was taken to the hospital early yesterday morning by two unknown men, who failed to give their names to the hospital attendants, and appealed to the police for a thorough investigation.

LETTER TRAPS MAIL CARRIER.
Long in Service, He Opens Mail Addressed to a Supposed Rival.

Emil L. B. Iverson, 50 years old, who has combined evangelical work with the business of letter carrier for the last twenty-two years, was arrested at the Southern Pacific station last night by Postoffice Inspectors Ranger, Cookson and Webster, charged with tampering with the mail, just as he was preparing to meet the sweetheart who joined him last Thanksgiving Day.

He says he was engaged to marry Miss Olga Daffron and that the young lady disappeared the day of the wedding. Iverson happened to have the mail route on which his rival lived. Suspecting him of tampering with his rival's mail, the inspectors had Miss Daffron write a letter from her hiding place saying she would arrive in Los Angeles at a certain time, and to have Iverson kept away.

Instead of keeping away the letter carrier appeared at the station. He said last night at the City Jail that the letter he read was partially opened and that he had seen his name. He is a widower with seven children. It is said that money has been missed from mail he carried.

His ability to carry through any contract it may make. Very respectfully, (Signed) RESPE LIGHT AND POWER CO. By Frank Buren, President.

CITY MUST ACCEPT.
In the event that a responsible and properly-guaranteed offer to supply the city with 10,000 horse power at the rate named is made by the Seape Light and Power Corporation, the city of course would be forced to accept, said Public Service Commissioner John W. Kemp, one of the chief proponents of the $12,000,000 bond issue. He stated, however, that he did not believe the offer could be made because he believed the continuous flow of water could not be shown, at least during the summer months.

When asked what would be done in the event, as is promised, that a bond issue is provided by the Seape Light and Power Corporation, as a guarantee that the power can be delivered, Mr. Kemp said the city must accept.

SOCIETY.

Mr. Maude L. Baldwin and her son, Andrew, as Jack and Jill, confronted their counterparts in Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, and Mrs. Fred L. Dieter, who one wish to live forever in the country. If such milk-maids were there, Mr. Baker was a second time in the person of Mrs. Second-Guanti and Mrs. J. P. Balliet, while Second-Guanti, as Jack Horner, tried to sit in a corner. Others of the festive ensemble, all of whom were elegantly attired, were Mr. and Mrs. Milo A. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Balliet, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bohn, Harry T. Coffin, George J. Birkel, Harry Brinblatt, Leslie C. Brand, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawrence Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney E. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Edwards, Mrs. Pauline Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Hawkins, Miss Ruth Greppin, Miss Ella M. Gardner, Sydney Hyter, Charles Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, Miss Dorothy D. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Knap, Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rivers, William Reid, Mr. and Mrs. W. Shirley, Huber S. Spahr, Miss Madeline Souden, Ora D. Snyder, Mrs. Mark Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Q. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lockley Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Vollmer, Miss Nina Robinson, Miss Edna Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wardell and George H. Reed. There were six large oval tables, the main centerpiece of each being made of maiden hair and silver paper, surrounded by wreaths of thistles. The table was presided over by a hostess, Mrs. Burns, and the guests were seated in the capacity by Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Mrs. James Tabor Fitzgerald, Mr. Maude L. Baldwin, and Mr. George A. Johnston. The other part of the club was done in green, and Altair's orchestra furnished lively dancing music.

In Prospect.
Louis F. Vetter is to compliment Miss Eleanor MacGowan with a dinner dance at the California Club on the evening of February 1, the younger set being for the most part in evidence. Cards are shortly to be issued.

In Farewell.
In the blue room of the Athletic Club yesterday, Mrs. George H. Kress presided over a luncheon as a going-away compliment to Mrs. George Goldsmith, who is leaving tomorrow morning for a five-week engagement tour East.

At the Little Blue Room, a luncheon was given by Mrs. J. W. Rivers, with a tiny train running continuously through the room, and by Mrs. J. W. Rivers, with a tiny train running continuously through the room, and by Mrs. J. W. Rivers, with a tiny train running continuously through the room.

Place cards were also appropriately suggestive of the honoree and her farewell courtesy, with couplets pertaining to Journeys and the limits etc.

Covers were laid for Mrs. William J. Hole, Mrs. Russell J. Waters, Mrs. Nicholas E. Rice, Mrs. Charles Sumner Kent, Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, Mrs. Charles Fish, Mrs. Blanche Hardy Morgan, Mrs. J. Bert Stearns, Mrs. Beniah Wright, Mrs. Maurice Kahn, Mrs. M. Elasser, Mrs. G. P. Ross, Mrs. Joe Leroy, Mrs. W. B. Corwin, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, Miss Susanne Conn, Mrs. Goldsmith and the hostess.

This talented Los Angeles matron is to go first to Phoenix and El Paso for programmes, and on to New York, where she will appear at the Plaza. En route home she will stop in Denver and Salt Lake. Her commitment was one of the prettiest affairs of the week.

For Today.
Mrs. Willoughby Rodman is entertaining in compliment to Mrs. Clement Smoot, who has recently come from Chicago to reside in Los Angeles, and for Mrs. C. Stanton's house guest, Mrs. E. W. Wylie Wells, Mrs. Horace B. Wing, Mrs. Homer Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. C. Carpenter, Mrs. Wesley Clark and Mrs. Stanton will assist at the table, for which the decorative motif will be springtime in its joyous and cheerful.

Mr. and Mrs. Smoot have taken a house on Orange street, near Mrs. Rodman, and this afternoon's function is limited to about forty neighborhood friends, who will welcome the new addition to the circle.

Mrs. K. R. Smoot of Vermont, who is Mrs. Rodman's house guest while her son and daughter-in-law are getting settled, will preside at a special special of honor at an informal luncheon given by Mrs. Horace B. Wing of Eldon avenue, and last night a dozen or so had dinner downtown and a theater party for "Everyman."

In Honolulu.
A recent Sunday periodical published in Honolulu has the following interesting item concerning well-known Angelenos:

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Steison of Los Angeles have rented the M. Branch home, No. 1212 Kalia road, Honolulu, for the winter, and took possession last Monday. This is not their first visit, previous visits having been made six years ago, when they spent several months here, on their way to the Orient. Mr. Steison is president of the Western United Company, wholesale grocers of Los Angeles, and first visited the islands thirty years ago this winter.

Honored Visitors.
At the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hunt of Santa Monica entertained at luncheon Dr. and Mrs. Chislett of Chicago and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kellogg of this city.

AMONG THE STORES AND AMID THE SHOPPERS.

BY OLIVE GRAY.
Now is the time to buy. The underwear for the June wedding chest. Such sales of fine, hand-embroidered lingerie will not be found again for one long while.

Few days which your style-knowledge tells you will be "good" next season. Winter fashions are almost given away in some of the end-of-the-season sales.

The practical underwear and warm sleeping garments for use next season. Sales of such are rife just now at savings which will pay. It is rumored that all goods, cotton, wool and silk, may be higher in price next year.

Deliver me, for all and forever, from the BUT and IF friends! From that friend who is given to saying: "I am very fond of you, and so, but—" Or: "I like this, and thus, it only she—"

Quite as prayerfully would I ask deliverance from the tolerant friend, "Dear old This and that—let's see, I don't know if you know I just do on these folks!"

One of the enjoyments of friendship is to discuss one's friends; to enumerate their good qualities, their idiosyncrasies and possibly, upon occasion, to mention their faults or shortcomings. When one speaks to mutual friends and speaks affectionately, it has been said that one is not only giving one's friends, but one is also giving one's self. But, to discuss one's friend with strangers or with those who could not possibly sympathize, or who into the point of view and who would rudely condemn! I do not see how this can be construed into friendliness.

Rather than a million such friends let me have one genuine enemy—or even a host of them.

An enemy carries the flag of battle on the lines of one's life, while the BUT and IF friend wears the Red Cross and conceals a stiletto in the white sleeve of the robe.

A Hoghead of Flattery.
Paris proposes to barrel-hot muzzie—the silhouette!

Have you ever heard of the newest feminine outline? It begins rather narrow at the top, bulges as it travels downward toward the knees, where it reaches maximum, and then begins to taper until it has formed a barrel shape. Not exactly on the lines of the hobnob, which was narrow all the way, but precisely like a barrel.

You can imagine cases where such an outline would reach the proportions of big brother to the barrel. So, the time may come when, to compliment a woman, will be to say: "She looks just like a hoghead."

Pillows.
Did you ever see such beautiful pillows? The milliner, couturier and artist all combine to lend allure to those cushions. Of satin, silk or linen—or any material, in fact—are these objects lovely and their bedeckment is as wide of range as fancy can roam. Silken fruits and fruits of lacery; bows, bands and gold galleons; buttons, ruffles, hand embroidery—nothing decorative comes amiss in fashioning pillows. And the shapes are quite as varied as their decorations. Square, oval, oblong, starrad, round, diamond, and even flat; there is almost no shape that is not in vogue, which does not find a place in the pillowy world.

Prismatic Prunes.
"Imperial" is the very name for such fruits as those; and they are imperial by nature if not by name—possibly they are both.

There is a window filled with them—great luscious things that make you revise your notions about the once despised prune. As large, as though magnified by a prismatic glass, as fat and juicy looking as butter, these are not prunes. However, in examining those prunes one realizes the economy of purchasing the best, since in buying in

LURE GETS ORDYNSKI.

FAMOUS DIRECTOR TO ACT AS FIRST AID TO FILMS.

By Grace Kinyer.
The Rialto is all agog over the various changes promised in the dramatic world. What with Ordynski dashing into pictures, with the Burbank promising to echo to the lilt of musical comedy, "Dons" Fairbanks doing the exclusive stunt and snaring up his own company, and the introduction of musical comedy extensively in vaudeville, the dramatic universe appears to be getting loose from the traces in more ways than one.

Merry in Old Age.
And now it is rumored the hoary Burbank Theater is to take a stand in musical comedy. After a staid quarter of a century as the home of serious drama, and a brief but respectable career as a motion-picture house, the historic shades are to be awakened to the frivolous echo of the merry-merry.

Several changes at present are under way. Between William Weightman, millionaire automobile racer of Philadelphia, and the Moscow people, by which, if all goes well, the theater will pass into the hands of Mr. Weightman. On the telephone last night Mr. Weightman admitted that the deal was under way, but stated it had not been closed yet. In the deal gone through, Los Angeles is promised some first-class productions as the new manager will present only the best.

"Everyman" to Live On.
Incidentally it is to be remarked that the arrangements have been made to continue the production of "Everyman" next week. "Everyman" may seem a long way from musical comedy, but when it is made known that the morality play will be put on at the Burbank theater, Monday, the connection will be plain.

Scene of Pictures.
And now the Ordynski Pegasus is to be harnessed to pictures! Richard Ordynski, far-famed as a Hollywood producer of spectacles, is about to close negotiations whereby he will enter the film business. He is planning, immediately on returning from New York, next March, to act as first aid to the picture craft, by identifying himself with some one of the photography companies of the city, probably the Lasky company, though other concerns have been bidding for his services.

Mr. Ordynski, whose production of "Everyman" at Trinity Auditorium this week, is an artistic triumph, and whose productions at the Little Theater have gained him local fame, was first brought to the attention of the world through his work as the famous Max Reinhardt's assistant. He aided in putting into form the fantastic spectacles which have amazed the world. Mr. Ordynski will leave for San Francisco shortly, and thence on to New York, where he will be connected with the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, during the coming season.

"Dons" on His Own.
Douglas Fairbanks' wild friends in this city yesterday that he has closed a deal whereby he will head his own company. No details were forthcoming as to the releasing concerns, but it is certain to be one of the new Laemmle-Powers-Pichtelberg organizations were bidding for Fairbanks. It is certain to be one of the new Laemmle-Powers-Pichtelberg organizations were bidding for Fairbanks. It is certain to be one of the new Laemmle-Powers-Pichtelberg organizations were bidding for Fairbanks.

Long-Lost Want.
Marty Farkins has discovered vaudeville is just pining for musical comedy. Big time vaudeville is to be treated to some pretentious musical comedy tableaux, the product of his own company. No details were forthcoming as to the releasing concerns, but it is certain to be one of the new Laemmle-Powers-Pichtelberg organizations were bidding for Fairbanks. It is certain to be one of the new Laemmle-Powers-Pichtelberg organizations were bidding for Fairbanks.

Greater Love Hath None.
Lillian Tress, the charming singer who is winning her audience at the Orpheum this week with her brilliant voice, is an Australian, this trip being her first from her native land. In her own country, Miss Tress is famed as a musical comedy star.

She is the stepdaughter of T. D. Broughton, famed in Australia as the millionaire "million" owner of Queensland, "million" being the Australian equivalent of ranch. Broughton is a breeder of horses and sheep, and at present is shipping horses to England for war purposes. Thereby hangs a most appealing tale.

"Lillian" is only a brother, has gone to war, and it was partly on this account she felt recruited to leaving Australia. Also with him has gone her own particular pet horse, Firefly.

"My brother was my dearest pal," said Miss Tress. "It was so lonely at the ranch without him, I couldn't bear to stay on after he had left. He belonged to a company of cavalry, and so I gave him my beloved Firefly. My two dearest friends I have given to my country."

Excitement Near.
He lives in Hollywood and the story is this: Ernest Warnack, a brother of Henry Christen Warnack, is an employee at the Hollywood plant. Late one night last week a man rushed into the store and shouted, "O, Ernie, they're just run off a

AT THE THEATERS.

Panorama.

Three packed houses daily are testifying to the fact that the show this week at Panaram is the best of the month. There isn't an act on the bill that doesn't deserve to be classified as a headliner. Somebody has come first, however, and the program is commenced by Burke and Broderick in a de luxe dancing act that is a stunner. From a musical standpoint, the Nifty Three, who sing to the accompaniment of piano and violin stand out among the best while Georgietta Chavira, a stinging comedienne, singer and whistler, also furnishes some clever entertainment. Rucker and Winford, doing a colored man and a Chinaman act, furnish a carnival of fun, and Senator Francis Murphy in his travesty on politics has an act in which humor and melody are delightfully intermingled.

Hippodrome.
Olga, the Lady of the Leopards of the famous Kathlyn pictures, and the ## great Bonomar Arabs will be the two big features on the programs at the Hippodrome next week.

Olga will present one of the most thrilling animal acts on the vaudeville stage, working in a steel arena with her fierce, tawny companions.

Little Jerry, the Vest Pocket Comedian, should find favor with the kiddies, with the Flip-Flop Sisters and Layden, the girls with the harn voice and violin, have a delightful offering.

The comedy side of the bill will be furnished by Alaska and company in a sure-fire hit and an amusing departure will be offered by the three chums in "An Evening at the Club." A team of real novelty entertainers will be found in Beaumont Lee and Scott and Pathe News and photographs will complete the programme.

Man Charged with Luring Had Checks is Arrested.
Frank Wilson, alias Frank Wood, alias F. H. Turner, was arrested yesterday in San Bernardino by Constable Roger Woodbury and Detective H. L. Huff of the Southern California Auto Club on the charge of luring fictitious checks in payment for a motorcycle and an automobile. He was brought to Los Angeles last night and placed in the County Jail.

It is alleged that Wilson issued the fictitious checks in deals made last Sunday, when he purchased a motorcycle from A. M. Karpier for $100 and a second-hand automobile from C. C. Gilder for $170, giving them checks bearing the names of the County Jail.

Immediately after these deals it is alleged, Wilson disappeared, and he was traced to San Bernardino, where, it is said, he was making preparations to leave for some point in Arizona.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY OF COAST SOUTHPAWS RESIGNS

Ancient Player Decides to Take up the Pursuit of Gasoline Rather than Baseball—Learns to Play the Game in Southern California and Spends Most of His Time Around These Parts—Take Care of Yourself, Roy!

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

So Roy Hill, dean of Coast League southpaws, has decided to roll up the old "unle" when his decision was learned there was not a fan north of Los Angeles or south of Portland who did not assume a shocked expression. It was like saying adieu to an old friend, or the passing of a beloved landmark. England has its Westminster Abbey, and until yesterday the Coast League had its Roy Hill. Both are unique, distinct, historical and somewhat ancient.

A TARGET.

But where the Britisher takes his Westminster Abbey seriously, the baseball fans were rather flippant in their veneration of him. He always served as a target for the local humorists, both amateur and professional. He could pitch a game that was a classic, but while the writers would give him full credit the epic always were sprinkled with light and airy perfunctory remarks to the achievement of a certain fat man who was among these present. Everybody seemed to have a snafu-lunch that Rhine had put one over on nature by turning out to be a baseball pitcher instead of a bond broker. When he hurled his no-hit game two years ago—one of the classics of the diamond—all the writers agreed in their stories that it was almost more than one would expect of a corpulent gentleman, instead of going into rhapsodies over the achievement.

HOME PRODUCT.

Hill learned the game on the vacant lots of Southern California. He made his professional debut by pitching one inning for Los Angeles against San Francisco, and was an occasion featured by considerable violence. He was signed by Hank Harris, manager of the Soles, in 1901, and continued chucking the pill there until 1907, when he was purchased by Cincinnati. His early work with the Reds indicated that he would be one of the real stars of the majors. But he injured his wrist, and also contracted water on the knee. This is severe enough under any circumstances, but to get Cincinnati water on the knee is generally regarded as fatal. However, Rhine's superb constitution enabled him to rally sufficiently to resume pitching in a Columbus uniform in 1908. Coast League fans had largely forgotten him when Hill dug him up for the original Vernon Tager. He was the very epitome of the "pitching star" who nearly every season until last year, when appendicitis came near cutting him down in his prime.

TOO HOT!

Hill's stomach was the bane of his life, and resulted in his becoming widely known as "Doughboy" in public life, although he was never addressed by that name in his own home or in social life. This ailment was simply a skin disease, and was hit by many shafts of sarcasm. These, together with the job he labored into it made it a punishment, figuratively speaking. There was nothing artificial about this stomach, and neither was it due to a violent upheaval. It was the result of nature's growth and development, and became a permanent institution early in his career. It was not a wide expansive stomach, but clearly defined, and gave the impression that he might have been housing a small, angry animal. It baffled the experts, and yielded not to time and temper. Rhine trained mainly for his stomach, and his legs, arms, neck and behind his ears, but his manly abdomen remained steadfast and immovable, as solid as a rock to himself and to science. When the surgeon opened him to explore around his appendix it was thought that the secret might be solved. But they found no cause.

The passing of Rhine removes from baseball the first, last and only one of his species. He was gone to work for the Standard Oil Company. The very word that we can wish him is that he becomes president of it. Las Darcy, since arriving on these shores has been consistently directed by his leading experts, mentally speaking. About everything from Darcy's handsomeness to his pleasant, open-faced countenance has been held up to public view, while there also has been considerable speculation as to the size, shape and condition of his internal organs. Not the least noticeable thing about the visitor is his hands. They stick out in some of his photographs like a couple of Westminster hams. Compared to some of the comment, these ample mitts are not necessarily a source of amusement. Neither are they necessarily a handicap, or a useless incumbrance. However, it is significant that comment on the size of his hands have been one of the physiological features of many of our leading players of the past. In short, the power to punch is located in the muscles to be found in the vicinity of the shoulder blades. The human hand is merely a vehicle. In eating it conveys the food to the mouth, and in fighting it conveys the punch to the other fellow's mouth.

Ad Wolgast has a hand of considerable dimensions—probably larger as large as that of Darcy—and judging by descriptions of the latter's battles, there is a similarity in their styles. Neither is what is technically known as a one-punch fighter, but a man who has a majority of his battles by wearing his man down through a sort of "perpetual motion" similar to that which has been attributed to Darcy. Both hold that meeting offense is the best defense. Also, there seems to be an analogy between them in their ability to take a hard wallop without weakening and give two in return. In his prime Wolgast, like Darcy, had stamina to burn, and he was invincible until the machine tank became empty. Neither has the build or organization of a thoroughbred. Wolgast freely admitted that he knew little of the science of hitting, but merely "suffered" his punches, as he expressed it. He openly envied the clean hitting of Joe Rivers.

Among the clean, deadly punches was Kid McCoy, and the kid had the hands of a courtier. Joe Gans, who combined uncanny cleverness with the punch, and who could land as clean and decisive a blow as any

RELAY CARNIVAL TO BE HELD IN BOVARD FIELD.

THE relay carnival will be held on the new Bovard Field and not in Pasadena. The Tournament of Roses officials yesterday refused to hold that meet. Since becoming wealthy on the Oregon-Pennsylvania football classic, they are out of the promoting game.

MUCH BETTER.

In most ways Bovard Field is a much better place to hold these relays than Tournament Park. They were only offered to Pasadena this year out of courtesy. They originated at Occidental and, when the high schools refused to allow their athletes to compete in a college-run affair, Coach Joseph A. Pipal presented his pet meet to Pasadena. But Tournament Park has no running track and no straightaway. Last year the 100-yard dash was held in the middle of the football field and a temporary track laid out around it.

HURRAH!

STOVALL BURSTS FORTH WITH A FEW SENTIMENTS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

GEORGE STOVALL has certain reforms to offer in the conduct of baseball games which will meet with the approval of the fans. Field reforms, if put into force, would prevent the batting order from becoming helplessly gumbled up in the minds of the fans, and in that way make the game more pleasant for the paid patrons by making it easier to follow.

In a way he was speaking from bitter experience, or rather, from a bitter experience suffered by his club, with him a witness in the role of a helpless spectator or non-combatant. It was this incident, recalled while he and Chance were reminiscing over old times, which set Stovall to figuring out ways and means by which the batting order could be kept regular and above suspicion. When Chance had the New York Americans, Stovall was in charge of the St. Louis Browns. The clubs were competing in New York. Some time before the season began, he was suspended for twenty-one days. He was not supposed to inhabit any park in the city during that period, but he did so, and he was batting when he approached first base.

SIX AHEAD.

St. Louis was leading by six runs when New York started a rally in the eighth. This lead was so great that the first two or three innings scored by the Yankees failed to arouse even a mild interest. And when Chance went it to hit for the pitcher, and responded with a safe blow, it did not create much comment. In fact, the incident had been practically forgotten by the time the team had batted around again. The excitement now was so acute that the fans, players and umpires had practically lost track of the situation. Consequently, when Chance called around at the plate again and this time he was in the line-up, he was not appreciated. He got away with it, and New York won the game, 8 to 7, but there was one person present who thought that Stovall's first base was a place of amusement. It is true that they don't send in a bunch of pinch-hitters in the second scene of the third act, or at any other time. But, if the patrons were forced to sit through a play and guess at the personnel of the cast they would soon cease to patronize. Many people who attend ball games do not know the players by night, and have only a superficial knowledge of the game," said Stovall. "Frequently, in a game where there are numerous changes they have only a vague idea of the nature of the shifts made in the batting order and line-up, and may not know exactly what transpired until they pick up the papers the next morning."

Stovall's plan to make the game more intelligible for the patron is simple, and involves only a little more work for the umpires and announcers. Under the prevailing system it is required that each manager provide the umpire-in-chief with a written copy of his batting order. Stovall thinks that the umpire-in-chief should be required to copy these off and present each manager with a duplicate of his rival's batting order. Not only could the two managers use it for reference during the game, but with the batting order in possession of three men the liability of mistakes would be reduced. In addition to this he would have the announcer state not merely the fact that one player replaces another, but also state the position in which he will bat in the subsequent innings. These suggestions have real merit and should be adopted.

THE meet this year will be held by the A.A.U. Track and Field Committee. "Babe" Griffen, former Poly star, was appointed chairman of this committee yesterday and the plans for the meet were outlined in a special meeting called at the E. H. Dyer sporting goods store last night.

ALL of the regular relays will be held and in addition the cream of the other events—the 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdles, high jump, broad jump and pole vault. There will be the usual three classes into which Coach Pipal divided the entrants—the college class, the big high school class and the little high school class.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR TIMES' SUBSCRIBERS

By Special Arrangement with the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California (One of the oldest and most reliable Insurance Companies in America)

THE TIMES offers to its subscribers, old and new, an unusual Accident Insurance protection at a very low cost.

The Accident Insurance Policy will be issued by Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California

This Company, which owns and occupies the handsome white building overlooking Central Park at Sixth and Olive Streets, Los Angeles, is a California Company, organized in 1868 under California's exacting insurance laws. It is now forty-nine years old and has paid to policy holders and their beneficiaries over $48,000,000. Every Policy issued is guaranteed by assets of over $38,500,000.

The Policy covers loss of life, loss of limb, loss of sight and loss of time resulting from any accidental bodily injury.

AT HOME—AT WORK—AT PLAY—CROSSING the STREET—RIDING in AUTOMOBILES—HIKING in the MOUNTAINS—BATHING in the OCEAN—ANY KIND of ACCIDENT—ANYWHERE—AT ALL TIMES.

Thumb and index finger of either hand	100.00, increasing to $150

It pays $20.00 per month for twelve months if the bodily injury totally disables the holder from performing the duties of his occupation.

It pays $5.00 per month for six months if the bodily injury partially disables the policyholder, that is, prevents him from performing one or more important duties required by his occupation. Ten per cent. will be added without extra charge to the amounts payable for loss of life, limb or sight, each year the policy is renewed, until fifty per cent. is thus added.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is the biggest and best newspaper printed on the Pacific Coast. Its news service is equalled by but few papers in the world, and excelled by none. The publication of its news features, stock reports and advertising are of great value to the reader. A man or woman knows just where to look for the news and for the advertising.

Any man can protect his family against misfortune by subscribing to THE TIMES and making application for this splendid Accident Insurance Policy, which pays for disability according to the above schedule. The offer is open to men only. If necessary the subscription may be taken in the name of some lady of the family and the Policy issued to a male member of the family.

Old subscribers of THE TIMES (men) may take advantage of this offer provided they are already on a subscription contract.

The cost of the Policy is so small that almost anyone may avail himself of the protection by subscribing for THE TIMES for one year and paying at the rate of 98c per month. This includes the subscription price of THE TIMES and the cost of the insurance.

For further information inquire of any TIMES Agent, Routeman or at The Times Office.

COMMERCIAL. LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

There has not been a price change in the Los Angeles sugar market for several weeks and local wheatears are looking for a general decline in quotations almost any day now. Buying continues on the close and the feeling in the East seems to be that prices within the next thirty days will be radically lower than they are at present. Referring to the outlook for the current year, William and Gray of New York have the following to say: "Regarding the course of prices for 1917, with the large Cuban crop, expected to exceed the previous one by about 500,000 tons, and the larger Louisiana, Porto Rico, Hawaiian and domestic beet crops, the course of prices is not likely to reach as high as during 1916. Furthermore, the European market has taken over the question of sugar supplies as well as other commodities and stringent government regulations will be made to reduce the consumption of sugar. Under such circumstances, it is reasonable to expect that the exports of sugar will not exceed the figures of last year, 5,100,000 tons of refined and 2,500,000 tons of sugar in bulk. The total of refined and Cuban sugar, therefore, will be about 7,600,000 tons. Taking this possibility of reduced shipment abroad together with the increase in crop, we may expect that, approximately, raw prices will be $12.50 to $13.00 and refined $12.00 to $12.50 during 1917."

Potatoes were stronger yesterday and the market was better. The price of the heavy, white, round potatoes, which are the main reason for the high prices, was $1.00 to $1.10. SHIPPING. OFFER REWARD FOR OFFICER'S SLAYER.

CITY COUNCIL TO PAY THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS. For Information Leading to the Arrest of James Darwin, Wanted on Murder Charge, Police Print Posters Giving Description of Successful Fugitive.

Three hundred dollars has been offered by the City Council as a reward for information leading to the arrest of James Darwin, alias James Burwin, wanted in connection with the murder of Policeman Thomas J. Kronschnabel, December 15.

Had the Council delayed in offering the reward, plans were already in progress by which the individual members of the police department would contribute 10 cents each towards a fund for a reward.

Ten thousand copies of the offer were being prepared by the police department printing office. These posters give a complete description of the man who is suspected of having committed the brutal murder without provocation.

Darwin has the face of a woman and a girl fastened on one of his arms, and around the face is draped an American flag. Under the face is the tattooed name, "Madeline, Hazel and Anna."

Darwin continues a successful fugitive in one of the most remarkable of the police department's records. He has been in the city for several months, and has been seen in various parts of the city.

GREATEST WINE CROP OF STATE.

Will Likely Exceed Eight Million Gallons. Local District Reports Show Record Taxes Paid.

According to the manufacturers' reports received yesterday by the Southern California Wine Association, the crop of wine grapes in the local district is the largest in the history of the industry. This is due to the exceptionally fine season for grapes, and the fact that the crop is estimated to be the largest in the history of the industry.
